

ALISE Annual Conference Academy 2019 Call for Proposals

We are seeking proposals for the 2019 ALISE Academy that address the conference theme, “Exploring Learning in a Global Information Context,” The ALISE Academy is a half-day interactive workshop which will take place from 2:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. on Monday September 23, 2019. The successful proposal will focus on some aspect of the conference theme, supporting LIS educators worldwide. The format can vary but often entails a kickoff presentation by one or more workshop leaders, followed by small group activities, discussions, and large group wrap-up. Innovative interactive formats encouraged.

Some ideas for you to consider:

- Assessing pedagogy techniques and outcomes
- Bridging international divides with new pedagogy methods and fresh perspectives
- Challenges for distance learning
- Creating a welcoming climate for women and under-represented groups
- Cross-cultural challenges and opportunities
- Entrepreneurial responses to budget constraints
- Epistemological standpoints in LIS education
- Innovations in virtual and traditional classrooms
- International collaboration in LIS education
- Pedagogical approaches for global learning
- The defense of academic freedom and free speech

Evaluation Criteria

- Quality of the submission
- Qualifications of the workshop leaders
- Relevance to conference theme
- International representation among workshop leaders is also encouraged
