

Call for Juried Panels

Deadline: March 15, 2021

Notification of acceptance: May 15, 2021

Submissions are invited for Juried Panels for the 2021 ALISE Annual Conference, “Crafting a Resilient Future: Leadership, Education, & Inspiration.” This conference welcomes contributions that address the ways that LIS educators and professionals are re-engineering our standard procedures, practices, policies, pedagogies, communication, and general approaches to our work and other areas of impact in order to become viable in our rapidly changing environments. Plans must be made for resilience on all fronts for holistic human well-being, organizational health, curriculum, and scholarship of teaching. Panels should explore how LIS educators and professionals are addressing these questions: What efforts are LIS programs making to evolve so positioned to tackle these challenges and ensure sustainability? How is the LIS curriculum changing and how is it preparing resilient information professionals with the leadership and practical skills needed for the future? What will the future of LIS education look like and what initiatives, research, and innovations are needed to achieve resilience for a sustainable future?

A panel must have a clear focus explicitly related to the conference theme. Panels should be designed to foster interaction between panelists and audience members. Innovative panel formats are encouraged. Panel presentations will be scheduled in 90-minute blocks.
